

Every mitigation destroyed more favourable decisions than it created

